Talking through the ideas presented in Sunday's message helps us apply God's word to our individual lives. These questions are designed to help you put His words into action in your life this week.

Do you think Christians are more often known by what they're "against" or by what they're "for?" If you answered "against," what practical things might change that?

Apart from same sex marriage, what other kinds of issues cause disagreement between the values of a Christian and the values of the world?

Have you ever found yourself in a conversation with someone who disagreed with you on one of these "values" issues? How did it go?

How can the church hold on to its mission—to proclaim the gospel—while also helping people engage in social or policy issues strongly held?

For a fuller exploration of the different Scriptural passages that talk about human sexuality, please check out our denomination's paper here: www.covchurch.org/resources/human-sexuality-paper/

Human sexuality, homosexuality, and same sex marriage are complex issues. One sermon can't address them all. What questions do you have on these issues that you'd like to hear more about at some point? If you have questions send them to king@rcctulsa.org.

How did you encounter God today? Why do you think you were here? What do you need to do with what you experienced or heard?

Scripture passages for further study and exploration:

1 Corinthians 5.9-13

Romans 12.1-19

John 4.1-42

1 Peter 2.4-3.7

Note: Don't forget to be praying for the people around you.
